

Not anymore are they the big bad Wolves!

Do you think they are the baddies? Well you are wrong! These animals are sensational! Come closer and I will tell you why!

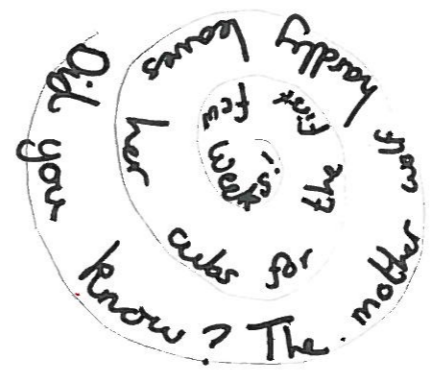

New - beginnings :

Newborn Wolves are only 8 inches long from the tip of their nose to the end of their tiny tails! Their eyes are tightly closed and they can't even see or hear! They can't even stand on their little weak legs. Not all cubs are born in a den.

Some are born in a hollow but sheltered from wind and rain or they could be born in a nest flattened in the long grass. There are A LOT! of dangerous things that could happen to a young cub in the wild!

They could be snatched by a predator, Such as Bears or Eagles. Many Wolf cubs don't survive until adulthood.

Hunting :

Wolves normally live in arctic, South America and Canada. A group of Wolves are called a pack! There are 50-60 Wolves in a pack! When they hunt they always work together as a team! The Wolves go for old or sick prey that are dragging along behind and easy to catch. Out of every 16 moose only 7 get away before the wolves could even get close! Which means they would only have 9 chances left to get food!
